Security

We maintain reasonable safeguards to protect against unauthorized disclosure, misuse, alteration, or destruction of the personal information you provide to us through our website. We protect data in many ways. Physical security is designed to prevent unauthorized access to database equipment and hard copies containing our confidential information, including your personal information. Electronic security measures continuously monitor access to our servers and protect them from hacking or other unauthorized access from remote locations. This protection includes firewalls, restricted access, and encryption technology.

Please note, however, that perfect security does not exist on the Internet. Therefore, while we endeavor to protect your personal information, unauthorized parties may access and use data when data is transferred over the Internet.

Processing of sensitive information

Sensitive information is information about your health, racial or ethnic origin, political views, religious or philosophical beliefs or membership in trade unions, genetic or biometric data or sexual orientation. We do not collect or process sensitive information about you and we ask you not to provide us any sensitive information.

Are you making automated decisions? Are you profiling?

We do not make automated decisions regarding you, you are not profiled.

Your rights

You have certain rights about your personal information:

Right to access: you have the right to request access to any data that can be considered your personal data. This includes the right to be informed on whether we process your personal data, what personal data categories are being processed by us, and the purpose of our data processing;

Right to be informed: you have the right to be informed about processing of your personal data and such information has to be easy to understand. This right is executed with this privacy policy;

Right to rectification: you have the right to request that we correct any of your personal data if you believe that it is inaccurate or incomplete;

Right to object: you are entitled to object to certain processing of personal data, including for example, making automated decisions based on your personal data or when we otherwise base the processing of your personal data on our legitimate interest;

Right to restrict personal data processing: you have the right to request that we restrict the processing of your personal data if you wish to: (i) object the lawfulness of the processing; (ii) fix unlawful processing of personal data; (iii) receive or avoid deletion of personal data for establishing or defending against legal claims; or (iv) demand restriction of the processing until assessing the plausibility of Partner admin's legitimate interest in the specific processing activity;

Right to erasure: you may also request your personal data to be erased if the personal data is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was collected, or if you consider that the processing is unlawful, or if you consider that the personal data has to be erased to enable us to comply with a legal requirement;

Right to data portability: if your personal data is being automatically processed with your consent or on the basis of a mutual contractual relationship, you may request that we provide you that personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format. Moreover, you may request that the personal data is transmitted to another controller. Bear in mind that the latter can only be done if that is technically feasible;

Right to withdraw your consent: in cases where the processing is based on your consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent to such processing at any time without any adverse effect;

Right to submit your claim with the supervisory authority: if you are not satisfied with our response to your request in relation to personal data or you believe we are processing your personal data not in accordance with the law, you can submit your claim with the supervisory authority in your country of residence or to the lead supervisory authority – the Lithuanian State Data Protection Inspectorate at www.ada.lt.

However, note that these rights are not absolute, and even if you exercise these rights, we may need to retain certain information for legal or administrative purposes.

If you would like to exercise any of the rights above, please email sales@partneradmincenter.com and include a request signed with electronic signature to help us prevent unauthorized individuals from accessing, changing, or deleting your information. Partner admin has the right to contact the data subject with a request to provide additional information that is necessary to determine his identity. We will respond to your request as soon as practically possible.

Updates of privacy policy

We review and update this Partner Admin Center privacy policy once a year or more often if it is needed. When we do so, we will publish the changes on our website. If you disagree with these changes, please do not continue using our Partner Admin Center.
